May Depose Davila.
New York, N. Y., Feb. 4.—That president Davila, of Honduras, may be deposed by congress is the purport of a message received here from Honduras. A state of siege has been declared there for some time and no one is allowed on the streets after 6 o'clock at night. Foodstuffs are selling for three or four times more than what they brought before the siege was declared. The Honduras congress refuses to ratify certain laws that Davila enacted, by decree, during recess.

THE WEATHER

Forecasts.
El Paso and vicinity: Tonight and Saturday, fair, warmer Saturday.
New Mexico: Tonight, fair and not so cold, Saturday, generally fair.
West Texas: Tonight and Saturday, fair, warmer Saturday.

Weather conditions.
Precipitation during the past 24 hours was confined to the Atlantic states and adjacent districts.

Elsewhere the weather is dominated by an extensive high pressure area that reaches from the north Pacific coast southward to the Gulf of Mexico.
At London, Wyo., the barometer reading reported was 30.92, with minimum temperature 16 degrees below zero.
The pressure distribution indicates that a continuation of fair weather may be expected for El Paso and its vicinity tonight and Saturday.

EL PASO GIRL IN COLLEGE THAT BURNED
Miss Zula Robinson, of El Paso, was a pupil in Carlton college, which burned Saturday night last at Bonham, Tex., and her mother was advised today that the daughter is suffering from nervous prostration following the experience attending the fire. Mrs. Robinson will have her daughter home at once. The college home, where some of the girls lived, was all that was saved from the flames and it caught fire several times. Several of the girls had narrow escapes and many of them were prostrated by the experience and shock.

COTTON MILL FOR EL PASO POSSIBLE

Josephus Boggs Thinks El Paso an Ideal Location for a Large Factory.

RATES TO EL PASO ARE GOOD

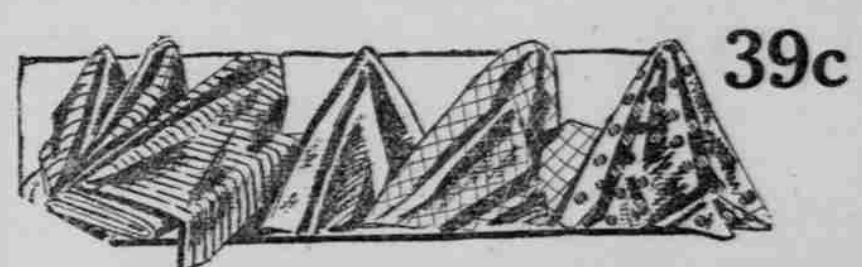

A combination of cheap Mexican labor, low rates on raw material and the proximity to oriental and Mexican markets makes El Paso an ideal location for a million dollar cotton mill. These facts are undisputable and have been facts for years. But it took a shrewd South Carolinian who had lived in El Paso less than five years to discover this great economic principle and act upon it. Although a native of South Carolina, his name sounds invitingly Yankee. He is Josephus Boggs and he is in the real estate, brokerage and promotion business in the Morgan building.

Migration of Mills.
Hearing of the migration of the New England cotton mills to the south where the raw product would not have to be hauled half way across the continent, Boggs began a study of local El Paso conditions. He has been collecting data for months relative to the operation of a cotton mill here, the sale of the finished product, and the supply of raw cotton. He now has this in shape to present to eastern capitalists who have large interests in the cotton mills that are migrating southward. It is his belief that a million dollar mill, employing 3000 hands, and with a monthly payroll of $60,000 could be located in El Paso and be made to pay a big return on the original investment. He has the data to back up his statement.

The Rates on Cotton.
The rates on raw cotton from east Texas common points to El Paso would be no greater, he says, than from the same east Texas common points to Galveston, from where it is reshipped to the New England states for milling and manufacture into cotton goods at a profit. If that can be done, it can be done in El Paso, is his belief. Cotton is also raised in quantities in west Texas and also in New Mexico, especially around Tucuman. This could be milled in transit as the wheat of the Globe mills is milled in transit. The finished product, consisting of cotton cloth, for which there is a great demand in the southwest and Mexico, cloth goods, yarns and cotton hosiery could be sold in this district, shipped to Mexico and sent to the orient on a long haul rate from here to San Francisco and thence by water.

Could Get Mexican Labor.
Because of the fact that Mexican labor, mostly women and children, would be largely used in the big mill, Boggs says that an equitable reduction on the tariff could be arranged with Mexico in order to furnish employment to a large number of Mexicans who would come to El Paso and also to have a constant source of supply for the cotton cloth which is consumed in such quantities in the republic. The Amistad cotton mills at Gomez Palacio are preparing to start on March first in order to supply a part of this demand for cloth and cotton goods. This mill is being financed by the Banco Minero, of Chihuahua, which was a large creditor of the former owners of the mill and governor Enrique Creel is at the head of the company which has taken over the Amistad mills and will operate them.

Corresponding With Big Concerns.
Mr. Boggs is in correspondence with a number of the large concerns operating cotton mills in the New England states. He says a $1,000,000 plant, employing 3000 hands, with a payroll of $60,000, could be obtained without great difficulty if the people of El Paso wait after it in the right way. He says a local subscription of $250,000 of the capital stock would insure such a plant being located in the immediate vicinity of El Paso, and he is getting the data that he has collected in shape to send to the mill owners at an early date.

Weak Over-worked Women

Who are broken down and made invalids by the drudgery of never ending household cares and duties, or by over-frequent bearing and nursing of children, and many other cares, burdens and strains which the weaker sex have to bear, are deserving of profound sympathy. But while sympathy is commendable what these unfortunate women most need is a good, honest, square-deal Restorative Tonic and Strength-giving Nerve and Regulator—one compounded and carefully adapted to act in harmony with woman's peculiar, delicate, ever sensitive organization.

Who so well fitted to select, carefully proportion the ingredients and compound a remedy for the cure of these distressing and often pain-racking weaknesses and derangements, as the carefully and thoroughly educated and regularly graduated physician who has had a long and successful experience in treating just this class of cases.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription THIS MEDICINE IS

THE ONE REMEDY Now, and for over 40 years, sold by druggists for Woman's Peculiar Weaknesses, and Distressing Ailments, gotten up by one having all of the above qualifications.

THE ONE REMEDY which absolutely contains neither alcohol (which to most Women is rank poison) nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

THE ONE REMEDY which is so perfect in its composition and so good in its curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient, as they do, on its outside wrapper, verifying the same under solemn oath.

In all the above most important particulars, the "Favorite Prescription" stands absolutely alone—in a class all by itself—as woman's most reliable and trust-worthy remedy in time of sickness and distress. It is a pure glyceric extract made from American curative roots, found by long time experience most valuable in curing woman's weaknesses and derangements. The leaders in all schools of medical practice have endorsed each of its ingredients as of the best known remedies for the complicated affections for which it is recommended. These professional endorsements should count for far more than any number of lay testimonials. A booklet full of them sent free on receipt of name and address.
